HARDING SMASHES INAGURAL PLANS

Committee Complies With His Request For Simple Ceremony

AGAINST DISPLAY

Position Stated in Telegram to E. B. McLean and Senator Knox—Opposes Extravagence.

Washington Jan. 11.—All plans for a big celebration in connection with the inauguration of President-elect Harding have been abandoned. This announcement was made last night by E. B. McLean, chairman of the Washington Inaugural Committee. The change was made in accordance with Mr. Harding's wishes.

The decision followed the receipt of telegrams from the President-elect at Marion to Mr. McLean, chairman of the Washington Inauguration Committee, and Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, in charge of the Congressional end of the program.

In his message Mr. Harding stated he preferred simply to take the oath of office, deliver a brief address and then take up his duties. He said it would make his position a very unhappy one if the outlay for an elaborate inaugurd created the impression of extravagance.

Mr. Harding suggested to Senator Knox that the proposal to erect stands on the Capitol grounds for the event be abandoned.

Mr. Harding's telegram to Mr. McLean follows:

"I beg respectfully to suggest to your committee the complete abandonment of all plans for an inaugural celebration.

"Heretofore I have been very reluctant to express my personal views to your committee because I knew of the cherished regard in our national capital for this quadrennial event, and the generosity of the citizens of the District in making provision for it. You were good enough to accept the chairmanship at my request and you and your associates have won lasting gratitude for the time and labor you have given in preparation.

"However, if it is becoming to express my preference, I wish you and your committee to know that the impression of extravagant expenditure and excessive cost would make me a very unhappy participant. I know full well that the Government outlay is relatively small and that the larger expenditure comes from the generous contributions of District citizenship, but it is timely and wholesome to practice the utter denial of public expenditure where there is no real necessity, and it will be a wholesome example of economy and thrift if we save the many many thousands which the inaugural celebration will call from the private purse of those attending.

"I have sent a message of like purport to the Congressional committee and expressed the wish that no preparations or outlay of any kind be made. It will be most pleasing to me to be simply sworn in, speak briefly my plight of faith to the country and turn at once to the work which will be calling.

"Warren G. Harding."

The message sent to Senator Knox was:

"I have been reluctant to intrude my views relating to inaugural plans, but I cannot longer remain silent without embarrassment and misunderstanding which I had rather avoid. Please convey to your committee my sincere wish for the simplest inaugural program consistent with the the autual requirements in taking the osth of office and the utterance of befitting address. I very respectfully request that Congress will not appropriate and your committee will not expend any fund whatever.

"I am familiar with the custom of erecting a platform and providing seats for guests who witness the ceremony at the Capitol, but it will be most pleasing to me to have this ceremony take place within the Capitol or on the east porch, with its stately simplicity, without a single extra preparation for the occasion. This will require no expense and we shall be joint participants in an example of economic as well as simplicity which

TEACHERS TRAINING LECTURE IN M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

The second lecture of the teacher course under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and the Alexandria Sunday School Association will be given in the Sunday School room of the M. E. Church South this evening at 8 o'clock.

The first lecture last Tuesday evening drew a large number of Alexandria's Sunday School teachers and religious workers who were delighted with the lecture by Dr. Frank W. Collier, of the American University of Washington. The opening lecture dealt principally with the teacher and the lecture this evening will continue the series, which is to last ten weeks.

AUXILIARY TO LEGION

Meeting Last Night. Service Work Outlined For Winter—Need of Co-operation

The regular monthly meeting of the woman's auxiliary to the American Legion was held last night, with a very small attendance, and in consequence no election of officers was held. A later meeting will be held for the election, but no date was selected.

The meeting was of great interest, as the question under discussion was the present unemployment among ex-service men ,and a number of incident were reported as having come to the attention of the members of the auxiliary.

Mrs. T. C. Howard was appointed the chairman of a relief committee with the authority to call upon any member to assist her in calling on the families of ex-service men with a view to assisting the men to secure work.

It was the unanimous opinion that these men must not appeal to the Associated Charities, as men who have lost their positions through going in to the army, navy or marine corps, and are now in straightened circumstances as the result of their patriotism, should be assisted by members of the American Legion and the woman's auxiliary, to tide over the winter and not have their families encounter actual need, for as the spring season opens, work will undoubtedly be available.

The work of this committee will be strictly confidential and the names of those the auxiliary will be so fortunate as to assist will be known to only one member of the committee; all will work to secure funds for this coject, but the disbursement of funds will be placed entirely in the hands of one responsible person.

The lack of interest displayed by the women of the city in the auxiliary to the legion was deplored when there are so many opportunities to assist ex-service, if the women would only attend the meetings and co-operate for service.

Alexandrians responded nobly during the period of the war, but the relaxation is to be regretted now during the days of "reconstruction."

Health Talks

First of Series Opened at Potomac Yards by Y. M. C. A.

A series of health talks was begun at the Potomac Yards yesterday by the Y. M. C. A. These talks are practical talks on health for the entire family and the men seemed pleared with the start made in the opening talk. The talks are given in the machine shop at the noon hour and the men listen as they eat their noon day meal.

The talks are to be continued to day at the transfer sheds to the office men and soon Bible classes are to be organized at both places.

The health talks are the same series that have been given to the men at the Torpedo Plant and at the Southern shops, and they will be given to other groups of men as rapidly as arrangements can be made. Over a thousand men listened to the talks last fall in the various shops.

AERONAUTS DUE THIS AFTERNOON

Stranded Navy Balloonists Encamped 20 Miles From Rail Head

IN NEW YORK FRIDAY

Canadian Officials Deny Reports That Arrest is Contemplated—Navy to Probe Mishap.

Mattice, Ontario, Jan. 11.—The missing American naval balloonists, Klocr, Farrel and Hinton, will reach Mattice this evening, barring the unexpected.

Earl Trowse, one of the runners sent out by the newspaper correspondents here in a party headed by W. R. Clarke of Hearst, Ont., brought this information to the press car at 10 o'clock last night. He said that the Hudson Bay Company packet from Moose Factory, with which the airmen are traveling, reached Skunk Island, 20 miles north of here, late yesterday afternoon.

Clarke, traveling ahead of his trio of couriers, met them and immediately returned with the news to Trowse, who was two miles below the Island. The Moose outfit camped at Skunk Island, Trowse promptly set out up the river on snowshoes making the distance in remarkable time considering the heavy going, rendered worse by another snowfall yesterday evening.

Having gone into the woods last Thursday night, he was without information that the correspondents in whose interests he was working were here instead of at Cochrane where they hesitated for five days as conflicting reports filtered through as to which of the two available trails would be followed.

Trowse was without information as to the physical condition of the rescued balloonists, from which may be assumed that they are all right. Had it been otherwise Clarke would have mentioned the fact to the runner.

Should the balloonists reach here by 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon it would be possible for them to catch the 4.38 train east reaching New York Thursday morning.

The more likely thing is that they will want to rest and make a leisurely trip of it, probably getting to New York Friday.

Clarke and Basle Rooney, the third member of the advance party, followed Trowse into Mattice about an hour later. They had not seen the Americans, but were told by an Indian who had pushed on ahead of the Americans to break the trail, that the aeronauts were encamped last night at Skunk Island with some Islanders who make their homes there.

The snowstorm, which is reported to be heading this way, had not reached here at midnight. If it breaks within a few hours, Clarke said it was doubtful that the party would reach here before nightfall.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Official denial was made here yesterday of published stories that the Canadian mounted police would "arrest" the three American naval balloonists on their return to civilization, in a friendly action to obtain an explanation of why they technically violated international air regulations by landing in Canada without due formalities.

Commissioner Perry, of the mounted police, asserted Sergt. L. MacLaughlin was waiting for the airmen mushing down from Hudson Bay to deliver to them official documents from Washington. His forces had no intention of demanding any kind of explanation, he said.

Rockaway, N. Y., Jan. 11.—A board of officers will be appointed to inquire officially into the loss of the balloon abandoned in the Hudson Bay country by the three naval officers treaking back to civilization from Moose Factory, Ontario, near where they landed after their wild sail from the navy's station here December 13.

This was announced yesterday with the statement that the investigation will be a routine for official record, in accordance with navy regulations requiring such an inquiry whenever a "ship" in the service is lost.

Supreme Court

Many Commonwealth Cases Before Tribunal

Four Commonwealth cases and three preferred cases will probably come before the Supreme Court of Virginia today, which convened this morning. Several cases of great importance, including appeals from the Industrial Commission of Virginia and the State Corporation Commission, are on the docket.

The case of Charles V. Statton against the Commonwealth, from the Hustings Court of Newport News will be argued. Statton was convicted of violation of the prohibition law and fined $50 and costs. Another case on the docket today is that of Wharton Hall against the Commonwealth, on appeal after conviction for forgery in Fauquier county.

Appeal after conviction for the attempted murder of David Tabb and sentence of two years in the penitentiary is made by attorneys for Emma Lou Fields. Error in the indictment and warrant which it is charged, does not inform the accused who she is alleged to have attempted to shoot, is the ground brought forward for the appeal sought.

Another Commonwealth case is that of F. M. Ambrose against the Commonwealth, from the Hustings Court of Portsmouth, after conviction on indictment charging theft of an automobile. The point at issue in this case is ownership of the car in question.

Smith against the city of Newport News, a preferred case, will also probably be argued before the court during the day. The case is up on appeal from the Virginia Industrial Commission. Captain Smith was killed in an accident when a patrol wagon was upset. The point at issue is whether he was a state or city employe, and who is liable for the compensation due his widow.

The case of Clifton Forge against the Danville Western Railway, appealed from the State Corporation Commission, is high on the list of those which will be heard. The commission refused to allow the company certain changes in rates and the company is appealing on the ground that the commission lacks jurisdiction to take such action in the case. Another preferred case is that of the Camp Manufacturing Company against Green, concerning a suit in equity, from the Brunswick Circuit Court, relative to the ownership of 787 1-2 acres of land.

During the session beginning today it is also thought probable that the question of whether the laws of the Commonwealth take precedence over regulations of the post office department or not. The question originates in the case of L. N. Hall, a chauffeur, formerly employed in carrying mail from Washington to Winchester, who is charged with exceeding the speed limit while going through the town of Leesburg.

Machen Lands Plum

Named Federal Prohibition Director in Virginia to Succeed S. R. Donohoe

Richmond, Va., Jan. 11—Lewis H. Machen, former State Senator and well-known attorney yesterday received his appointment as Federal Prohibition Director of Virginia. He qualified for the office immediately, the appointment being effective at once.

Mr. Machen succeeds the late Captain S. R. Donohoe, who died recently following a long illness. Mr. Machen is well known throughout the State, having been connected with the State prohibition department previous to taking office with the Federal government as counsel for the department.

Mr. Machen is a lawyer by profession, having for many years maintained offices in his home city of Alexandria. In 1913 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor against the late J. Taylor Ellyson. Upon the creation of the State Legislative Reference Bureau, he was placed in charge as its first director and, while holding this position, drafted some of the most important laws now on the statute books. He has for several years made his home in Richmond, and prior to that time made his home in Alexandria.

ROADS WELCOME INQUIRY ASKED

Charges Made by W. Jett Lauck Characterized As Absurd

INQUIRY ORDERED

Outside Repairs Held Necessary—Amount That Can be Thus Spent In Esch-Cummins Act.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The railroads of the country, accused yesterday before the Interstate Commerce Commissioner by the International Association of Machinists with wasting vast sums of money upon locomotive and freight car repairs in an effort to break down the labor unions, will welcome an inquiry by the commission into every phase of the question which the machinists have raised.

It might be stated that the inquiry which the machinists petitioned the commission to make yesterday was ordered by that body some days ago. The matter was brought to the attention of the commission originally by public statements of Representative Huddleston, of Alabama, which, in essence, are the same as those made by W. Jett Lauck in his brief filed with the commission yesterday morning.

It is the fixed purpose of the commission to inquire into the whole business, not because it has or assumes any jurisdiction over disputes between the railroads and their employes or is concerned officially in the open or closed shop, but because it has the right and is under the duty of conserving the railroads to conserve their financial resources.

Railway officials pronounce absurd the charge that they are deliberately throwing away enormous sums of money on repairs for the purpose of fighting unionism or for any other purpose. Any railway president who would dare dissipate the revenues of his property in such fashion, it was declared today, would be discharged immediately by his board of directors. The machinists' petition, it was added, is merely propaganda designed to embarrass the railroads in their fight before Congress for amendment to the Clayton act, relieving them of the necessity of advertising for everything they buy.

When the Interstate Commerce Commission opens its inquiry into contracts for equipment repairs the railroads will be prepared to show:

First—That the equipment of the carriers was returned to them at the end of Federal control in a condition far worse than when the Government received it, and that it required immediate and very substantial repairs in order that the carriers might meet the demands upon them by commerce.

Second—That these repairs were so great that they could not all be done in the company shops without an almost interminable delay.

Third—That practically all the repairs that could be done in company shops was done there and that the balance had to be put out to outside shops or the carriers and the public would be deprived of necessary transportation facilities.

Fourth—That in giving the work to outside plants the best possible terms were obtained, but because of overhead and the necessity for profit the outside shops could not do the work as cheaply as company shops;

Fifth—That even with the same classification of repairs there may be, and often is, a spread in the same shop of several thousand of dollars in cost of repairs on the same type of locomotive receiving, on paper, the same class of repairs.

Sixth—That the character of repairs done in outside shops is very much heavier than repairs done in company shops, the lighter repairs being confined to company shops to conserve capacity and time, and

Finally, that contracts of exactly the same character as those made by

THE JEW AS AN AMERICAN CITIZEN.

There has been considerable comment of late in the American press, as to the attitude taken by a certain paper published by a wealthy manufacturer, in which he adversely criticizes the Jew as an American citizen. This is, indeed, a retrograde into the dark ages. To take such a position in the United States, where the Jew has established himself as a leading factor in every sphere of activity, bears the stamp of bigotry itself. In philanthropy, in jurisprudence, in merchandizing, in manufacturing, in mining, in journalism, in all the varied walks of our social and civil life, the Jew has been conspicuously to the front. In the late war he demonstrated not only his patriotism at home but added to the laurels of our gallant soldiers in France. The history of the Jew is one of which any man might well be proud. "In one point"—says Sir Edward Freeman, the renowned historian, speaking of the Jews, "we must set them even above the Aryans." That point was the religion that taught that there was but one God. Christianity itself owes its origin to the Jew, leans upon his Bible, and its founder was of the royal race of David. During the middle ages the Jewish race was submerged. But with the growth of civilization his condition improved. Within the last two centuries he has furnished to Europe its foremost family of financiers. There were two Jews among Napoleon's famous marshals. What name ranks higher than that of Spinoza among the world's thinkers. Or in music who is more beloved than Mendelssohn. Disraeli was among the greatest of England's premiers, and out-generaled Bismark in diplomacy. But recently the Lord Chief Justice of England was a Jew, and President Wilson appointed Justice Brandeis as a member of the United States Supreme Court. In fact, the Jew has written his name large upon the scroll of nations, and it is too late to attack his prerogative to the respect and esteem of all his fellow-citizens of whatever country.

CHILD BEGGARS FOR MOVIE TICKETS ON THE STREETS.

The grand jury yesterday in the corporation court reported to Judge Robinson Moncure that it had been informed that a nuisance existed at the moving picture theatres by children begging passers-by for money to buy tickets. The jury recommended that the matter be brought to the attention of the police department. This is certainly a move in the right direction. Aside from the annoyance to the public, the children are acquiring vicious habits that will sooner or later lead them into evil paths. There should be a stop put to the practice and at once.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Work of Anti-Tuberculosis Society Plans Free Clinics

Richmond, Jan. 11.—It was announced today at the office of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association that, while the returns are beginning to come in from the sale of Christmas Seals, it is impossible to estimate what funds the association will have for its work during the coming year.

It was stated that as a result of the sale of the seals great interest has been manifested in the work in every part of the State. Numbers of cases of tuberculosis have been discovered in remote rural districts which would not otherwise have been disclosed as persons who were asked to buy Christmas seals responded to the appeal, stating that they are interested in the work because of tuberculosis in their families. In each case a personal letter has been written, advising examination by a doctor and literature has been sent outlining in detail home treatment for those who cannot go to a sanatorium, and protection of the members of the family who come in contact with the invalid.

It is hoped that the funds realized from the Seal Sale will enable the association to carry out its program for free clinics throughout the State, for it has been demonstrated where these clinics have been held that the people are eager for the examination, and hundreds of cases of tuberculosis have been found and treatment advised by the doctor making the examination. A large number of counties have requested free clinics and will receive them as rapidly as it is possible for the Association to have them held.

Give United Drive Millions To Europe Relief, Ask K. C

New York Jan. 11.—The undistributed balance of the United War Fund, about $5,000,000, should be turned over to the European Relief Council headed by Herbert Hoover the board of directors of the Knights of Columbus declared in a statement issued following their meeting here yesterday.

The Knights were one of seven welfare organizations benefited by the fund. The directors voted yesterday to transfer the organization's title and claim upon their portion of the fund—about $500,000—to the European Relief Council, recommending that other organizations having claims upon the fund take similar action.

"The fun was collected by seven welfare organizations and should be disposed by all of them acting in concert," Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty declared. "The objects for which the fund was raised have ceased to exist and the European Relief Council's work seems to be the sanest and most charitable object for the use of the undistributed balance. There should be no legal difficulty if the Secretaries of War and of the Navy and the President direct this action.

BELIEVES SON MURDERED, BOSSELMAN OFFERS $1,000

New York, Jan. 11.—C. A. Bosselman, head of the New York Souvenir Shop and father of Carl A. Bosselman, of Washington, D. C., who was found on the morning of January 2, lying on the street with his skull fractured, does not believe that his son was the victim of a drunken fall as the police assert. He believes his son was murdered.

Following this conviction, he has offered a reward of $1,000 for information that would fasten the guilt on those he believes responsible for his son's death.

DE VALERA DENIES GERMAN IRISH PLOT

Dublin, Jan. 11.—Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader broke his silence yesterday with a formal statement vigorously denying the alleged German Irish plot against Great Britain, and attacking the government's "white paper" issued Saturday concerning such a plot.

London, Jan. 11.—That apparent immunity of Eamon de Valera from arrest would continue as long as De Valera maintains silence, and did not participate in the affairs of the extreme nationalists was the statement made in authoritative quarters in London yesterday afternoon.

Since the above dispatch was filed De Valera has issued in Dublin a formal statement on Irish affairs.

At the same time it was revealed that the government was somewhat perplexed as to what was the best course to pursue with regard to the returned "president of the Irish republic," and virtually had decided to await the voluntary showing by De Valera of his own hand before coming to a determination with regard to his disposition.

Government officials express the belief and the hope that, owing to De Valera having allegedly been compromised at home by a split with in the ranks of the Irish Americans and taking cognizance of what is termed the moderate opinion in Ireland, it is possible De Valera will become serviceable in bringing into force the home rule act. Toward this end the government is modeling its policy and bending every effort. The government contends the moderate opinion in Ireland is growing in strength and influence.

It was said yesterday to be unthinkable that De Valera as president of the "Irish republic" would be invited or permitted to see the premier, but Irish authorities asserted that should De Valera be delegated by the dail eireann (Irish republican parliament) which, it is recognized, is the defacto representative body of the southern Irish people, the situation might be reconsidered.

PENROSE'S MOTORCAR SMASHED INTO JUNK

Washington, Jan. 11.—United States Senator Boies Penrose had an eventful day yesterday. His morning started with the wrecking of his automobile, but he escaped injury, since it was going after him at the time. Then he had a couple of political visitors, including George S. Oliver, of Pittsburgh, and afterward presided over two sessions of the Finance Committee.

The smash-up of the automobile was spectacular and Walter Mancer, the Senator's chauffeur, had a narrow escape. The big red car—not the new one—was wrecked almost beyond repair.

Mancer was driving to the Wardman Park Inn after Senator Penrose. The heavy snowfall, followed by the rain of the morning, made Connecticut avenue very slippery. An automobile and a pedestrian got in front of Senator Penrose's car. Mancer had to swerve.

The heavy automobile began to skid and before it came to a crashing halt, a twisted mass of wreckage, it had snapped off an iron lamppost and jammed up against an iron trolley pole.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 11.—Paul T. Collins, of Norfolk, former vice-president of the National Real Estate Association, before local realtors advocated the establishment at Richmond of a million dollar bank, to be known as the Virginia Bank and Trust Company, primarily to handle general real estate mortgages cooperating with real estate dealers in emergencies and for a general banking business.

"YOU DID RIGHT," FATHER SAYS TO SLAYER OF SON

Muskogee Okla., Jan. 11.—"You did right," said Thomas J. Wiley, attorney as he extended his hand to Paul Nobles, police officer, who shot and killed Wiley's 16-year-old son, Eugene, as he leaped from the window of an office room he was robbing early yesterday. Wiley met the officer late yesterday in the office of the county attorney.

"I'm sorry, terribly sorry," Nobles replied. "I didn't know he was just a kid."

The Wiley boy was one a boy gang ranging in ages from 13 to 17 years, according to the police. With him yesterday was Paul Bailey, 15-year-old son of prominent Muskogee parents. Bailey was arrested.

AIRMEN WERE 15 DAYS ON THE TRAIL

Mattice Ontario, Jan. 11.—Fifteen days after the day set for the departure of the rescued American naval balloonists from Moose Factory, the newspaper correspondents who rushed here at the receipt of news that the balloon had descended safely, still are knocking about this post of the Hudson's Bay Company which consists of three houses, a billiard room and the railroad station.

Not a word has been received of the aeronauts' progress southward, nor, indeed, even assurance that they left Moose Factory on the day set. It is thought that their departure may have been postponed owing to the weakened condition of Lieutenant Farrell, or to weather conditions.

OFFICIAL FRENCH KISS TO GO

Paris, Jan. 11.—Official kissing hitherto a regular feature of President functions in France, is being discontinued by President Millerand.

Recipients of the Legion of Honor decorated personally by the President, women students at universities who had won prizes, little girls presenting bouquets, and small boys reciting verses of welcome have all in the past been invariably embraced by the President, who, it was estimated, kissed a thousand French faces, bearded and unbearded, every year.

D'ANNUNZIO STILL IN FIUME

Triest, Jan. 10.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, it is said, intends to remain in Fiume. This statement is based mainly on reports that he has sent to Venice for a large wardrobe of civilian clothes and has requisitioned one of the largest villas in Fiume.

While most of the legionaires are leaving according to program, the poet's company guards are proving troublesome, being unwilling to surrender their arms.

HARDING SMASHES INAUGURAL PLANS

may be helpful in the process of seeking our normal ways once more.

"I have addressed a message of like import to the inaugural committee, asking the abandonment of the parade and ball, and hope for an acceptance of the intruded suggestion in the spirit which has inspired it.

"Warren G. Harding."

Mr. McLean issued the following statement:

"I realize, of course, how keen will be the disappointment to the people of Washington, but I have all along known how President-elect Harding felt with respect to the expenditures of large sums of money at this time.

"Because of Mr. Harding's feeling I was always in doubt about the inaugural program being carried out. I feel that Senator Harding's friends and advisors, no matter how much they regret the loss to Washington, will be with him in this matter."

Disbanding the committees appointed by Chairman McLean, membership on which included hundreds of persons not only in Washington but elsewhere, is expected to begin immediately. Upwards of $200,000 had been pledged by Washington citizens and business men toward the expenses of the inaugural celebration.

Mayor of Cork Ruled Subject to Deportation

Washington, Jan. 11.—Passport restrictions will not be waived by the State Department to permit entrance to the United States of Daniel J. O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who, on his arrival last week at Newport News as a stowaway and without a passport, was temporarily admitted on parole by order of the Labor Department.

The State Department's decision announced yesterday by Acting Secretary Davis, brought forth the assertion by Labor Department officials that jurisdiction in the case still rested exclusively with the Secretary of Labor. This indicated a continuation of the controversy between the two departments which has been more or less apparent ever since the landing of the Cork Lord Mayor on American soil.

Secretary Davis, in making his announcement, said he concurred in the opinion of the solicitor of his department, as forwarded to him yesterday, that there was no reason to make an exception in the case of O'Callaghan as regards admission without a passport. He said he was communicating his decision to Secretary of Labor Wilson, and added the intimation that his department, acting under the war time powers given the President to regulate the entry of aliens, might recommend that the Department of Justice be called upon to deport the Irish mayor.

THIEF RETURNS STOLEN $800 WITH NOTE OF APOLOGY

Fittsburgh, Jan. 11.—"I needed the coin, but I find out that I can't face my family with it, so I am returning it to you," read a note wrapped around a roll of bills containing $800 found in the hallway of his home by Thomas McKeown early yesterday morning.

Investigation disclosed that the roll of bills was the one taken from a strong box in the McKeown home last Wednesday when a burglar visited the place and, after overcoming Mrs. McKeown, bound and gagged her, locked her in a cupboard, took the money and disappeared. Mrs. McKeown was found half an hour after the burglar left the place by her sister.

When McKeown was preparing to leave his home yesterday morning he noticed a tightly wrapped package lying in the front hall near the door. Writing on the paper attracted dhis attention, and, picking it up, he saw it was addressed to him. Unwrapping the package, he found the bills—the original roll, apparently undisturbed in any way and containing the exact amount taken by the thief—$800.

In the note the thief, after admitting that he could not face his family with the money, asked Mrs. McKeown's pardon for his brutal attack, declaring that "actual want had caused him to commit the deed."

Charlottesville, Va, Jan. 11.—John R. Saunders, attorney general for Virginia, has been named regional director for the Centennial Endowment Fund of the University of Virginia for the district embracing the counties of Mathews, Middlesex, Gloucester, King and Queen, King William and New Kent. His acceptance of the regional chairmanship was announced yesterday by Armistead M. Dobie, executive director

AMERICANS VISIT GERMANY'S PORTS

Berlin, Jan. 11.—The Harriman shipping mission, consisting of E. B. Robinette, of Philadelphia; John Cade former American diplomatic representative in the Balkan states, and Archie Roosevelt, son of the former President, is making an extended visit to Berlin and Hamburg, negotiating with Hamburg-American officials for further development of the joint service.

Plans are being made to hold their own against other lines out of Hamburg.

The latest invader is the British which plans to operate a route with four 13,000 tonners in April. Purely German trade is not the sole objective of the Harriman Hamburg-American combination and rival lines as Hamburg is regarded as an attractive center for transshipment business via the Elbe to Czecho-Slovakia and to various Baltic ports.

Among the plans which are understood to be under consideration is the re-establishment of the line from former Austrian ports in the Adriatic to the United States. The Hamburg-American Company, formerly strongly intrenched at Trieste and Fiume, would like to reopen its Adriatic service as soon as suitable ships can be secured. The tonnage questions, particularly steamers of the type best suited to present trans-Atlantic conditions, is in fact the principal problem of the German shipping experts.

BAKER SAID TO USURP WILSON'S ARMY POWERS

Washington, Jan. 11.—Grave injustice has been done many officers discharged from service under the Army Reorganization act, Samuel T. Ansel, former Acting Judge Advocate-General of the army, declared yesterday before the Joint Congressional Committee. Charges by Representative Caldwell, Republican, of New York, that men have been forced by the War Department to give up their commissions when competent to perform their duties are under investigation by the committee.

In criticising the Secretary of War, Mr. Ansel said he had personal knowledge that Mr. Baker refused to permit officers slated for discharge or their counsel, to have free access to their military records in order to prepare a defense. He charged also that the Secretary had blocked appeals to the President by "taking over" the President's functions of reviewing contested discharges.

PLANE WITH TWO LOST IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Tiptonville, Tenn., Jan. 11.—Finding of an overcoat sleeve of George H. Simpson, pilot, and a cushion of a hydroairplane in the Mississippi River near here yesterday was taken to indicate that Simpson and Charles Fisher, mechanician, were dead.

Search was made along the Mississippi River for the seaplane in which Captain Simpson, pilot, and Fisher, his mechanician, were en route from Cincinnati on a 3000-mile trip with films of a moving picture, and who were reported to have fallen into the river when their plane caught fire yesterday.

Several persons reported seeing the plane fall in flames into the river. No trace of the men or the machine has thus far been found.

Simpson, whose home was in Toronto, Canada, served for more than three years as an aviator in the Canadian and British armies. Fisher's home was in Dayton, Ohio.

COX TO PRIVATE LIFE

Harry L. Davis Succeeds Him as Governor of Ohio

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—With a Governor's salute of 17 guns, Harry L. Davis, Cleveland, Republican, became the forty-fifth Governor of Ohio yesterday, taking the oath of office on the west steps of the State Capitol before a throng of Ohioans.

Governor Davis succeeded James M. Cox, who retired to private life after a public service of approximately 10 years, during which he served two terms in Congress and three terms in the Governor's chair, and was the Democratic candidate for President at the November election.

The incoming and outgoing executives were given a great demonstration. Governor Cox presented his successor his commission and the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Marshall, of Ohio Supreme Court.

"EXPRINCE" SMUGGLES GEM

New York, Jan. 11.—Anatole Kamluchire who says that until the overthrow of the Russian Czar he was a prince of Crimea, employed as first electrician on the Greek passenger steamship King Alexander, is depressed over the confiscation by Custom House inspectors of an emerald pendant valued by him at $2,000

Kamluchine says that the pendant was seized when he took shore leave with the idea of selling it for its owner, Michele Garchine, secretary to Queen Mother Olga of Greece. Ignorance of the law was not accepted by the inspectors as an excuse for nonpayment of duty charges and they directed Kamluchine to appear in court.

Rector Bars Evening Weddings Because of "Scandalous" Gowns

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11.—Evening weddings have been barred in Calvary Episcopal Church by the Rev. Edwin J. Van Etten, the rector, because frequently the appearance of women at these ceremonies is "scandalous and not in keeping with the sacred character of the service."

Dr. Van Etten, not at all backward in voicing his disapproval of modern day styles, threw a bombshell in to the ranks of Calvary's fashionable parishioners Sunday when his outspoken criticism of present modes of dress for women was followed by the announcement that no evening weddings would be solemnized in the church by either himself or the assistant rector in the future.

In his sermon the rector dwelt at considerable length on the tendency of the modern woman to follow the style regardless of consequences. He stated that no particular class could be singled out for censure, as the rich and poor alike affected clothing that was neither becoming nor modest in any sense of the word.

The ire of Dr. Van Etten is said to have been aroused a few days previous to his sermon by the appearance of several women guests "improperly gowned" at a wedding ceremony in which he officiated. At the time he was greatly incensed, and immediately following the ceremony made his decision to place a ban on all evening weddings where the tendency of the women guests, and sometimes the principals, was to appear as "decollete" as possible—in fact, as the rector puts it, nothing less than scandalous.

One of the officers of the church when seen last night stated that Dr. Van Etten was very popular among the wealthy and fashionable people in this city and that he has come to be known among them as the "marrying pastor," and that marriages which have evoked the ban were of principals not affiliated with Calvary Church.

Blonde Girls Not Adapted to Climate Need Blue Glasses

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The blonde girl is subject to "nerves" because she is not adapted to this climate, according to Dr. R. C. Augestine, president of the American Optometric Association. The doctor said all the girl needs is a pair of blue glasses.

"Blue glasses that cost two bits is all that is required to keep a blonde girl steady,' he said. "The glaring sunlight of North America irritates her disposition and she has 'nerves.'"

Old Census Records Destroyed By Fire in Commerce Building

Washington, Jan. 11.—Priceless census records, dating back to 1790, when the first enumeration of the United States was taken, were destroyed last night in a fire of undetermined origin at the Department of Commerce. The records included figures from every census up to the present one, and officials said that it would be days before even an estimate of the damage could be given.

The blaze originated in the basement of the Commerce Building and five alarms, quickly brought every piece of apparatus in downtown Washington to the scene and more than 20 lines of hose completed the damage done to the records by pouring tons of water through windows into vaults where the records were kept.

During the two and a half hours which firemen fought the blaze, three firemen were overcome by smoke and taken to the hospital. Among them was Frank Newman, recipient of the 1920 bravery medal.

HEIR TO $150,000, BURIED BY CONVICT

Greenwich, Conn., Jan. 11.—Despite a permit from one of the selectmen to dig for buried treasure, a man who claims to be "heir" to $150,000 buried here in 1916 by a former fellow prisoner in Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., was arrested here yesterday while at his work of excavation.

The man, whose name is withheld by the police, said that his Sing Sing comrade, who was serving a life sentence and who died in the prison not long ago, told him that the money was given him for murdering a man in New York city.

When arrested the man had a paper in his possession showing where he might locate the money, $50,000 of which he said was in gold. The police last night are guarding the spot where the digging took place.

HOME NO LONGER HOME; RED PLUSH SOFA TABOO

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 11.—Drop a tear, oh gentle reader, on the passing of another household institution dear to the heart of us all.

The old-fashioned red sofa—the sofa on which dad and ma used to spoon, on which daughter was courted by her young man as they held hands under the plush photograph album—the old fashioned sofa is "detrop." Such was the edict yesterday of J. H. Hampton, of Grand Rapids, Mich., at the annual meeting of the Michigan Retail Furniture Men's Association.

The mid-Victorian relic, with its glaring red upholstery, has been supplanted, according to Mr. Hampton, by the davenport or the formal chaise longue, designed to harmonize with the general decorative scheme of the room.

"Period furniture, such as Louis XV, Sheraton and Adam" said Mr. Hampton, "is replacing the ugly walrus and pearled lion."

"Ugly" carved walrus—oh, ye Gods!

LEITER, JR., SON OF WHEAT KING, KILLED ON HUNT

New Orleans, La., Jan. 11.—Joseph Leiter, Jr., the 10 year old son of Joseph Leiter, millionaire and former wheat king of Chicago and Washington, was killed yesterday morning returning from a duck hunt to the Leiter hunting lodge at Chateau Canard, at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

Word of the accident was telephoned from Chateau Canard to John Dymond, Jr., New Orleans attorney and a warm personal friend of the Leiters.

Dymond made arrangements for transporting an undertaker by a specially chartered boat nearly 100 miles down the Mississippi. The body is to be taken on a special car attached to the Louisville and Nashville train leaving New Orleans tonight for Washington. Burial will be at Washington where the Leiters maintain one of their two town residences. The other is in Chicago the carriers with outside shops were made by the Railroad Administration with outside shops for repairs during Federal control.

Furthermore, it is pointed out by railway interests that neither during the guaranty period nor thereafter could a carrier impose upon the public, as charged by the machinists, the excessive cost of repairs or of maintaining its equipment or other property.

As to the guaranty period, it is recalled, the amount allowable for maintenance of equipment is definitely fixed in the Esch-Cummins act as to exclude all unusual or unreasonable or disproportionate charges. As to the period subsequent to the guaranty period the amount allowable in the rates to be charged the public is expressly limited to such expenses as are incurred "under an honest, efficient and economical arrangement and reasonable expenditures for maintenance of way, structures and equipment."

ONE HOUR OF KISSING COST HIM $3,500

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Aurelius G. Turpin was a fast worker and stuck to the job with commendable tenacity when he gave Miss Virginia Foster 60 kisses in an hour. They were not little canary bird imitations of a kiss, but were of the moist, clinging variety. Hence Miss Foster did not have much time to breathe in that blissful hour. A jury assessed the kisses at $50 each and Turpin was ordered to pay her $3,500 for his osculatory performance.

The case was first tried in the Superior Court here and the Appellate Court has just upheld the verdict. The evidence showed that Turpin made promises of marriage during such moments as Miss Foster was getting her breath. He also promised some other things, which the jury overlooked, with a view, she claims, of getting her services as a graduate nurse free of charge. The Appellate Court holds that Turpin may never have intended to marry her and merely made the promises in order to poach upon her lips and to get the services free. He is a wealthy, retired realty dealer.

CARDINAL GIBBONS SUFFERS RELAPSE

Baltimore, Jan. 11.—Cardinal Gibbons suffered a recurrence of periods of weakness yesterday, which his physician, Dr. Charles O'Donovan, said might have serious consequences. The prelate was reported to be resting comfortably last night.

When he awoke this morning he said he was feeling well and asked to sit up. He spent several hours in a wheel chair in his bedroom, but many times closed his eyes and appeared to be on the point of relapse. Dr. O'Donovan regarded these symptoms as serious because of the advanced age and weakened physical condition of his patient.

Marion, Ohio, Jan. 11.—President-elect Harding took the obligations last night of Marion Typographical Union, No. 675, and hereafter will carry a union card.

Mr Harding learned to set type before he cast his first vote and after he became editor of the Marion Star he continued to help out in the composing room when the regular force was short.

French Cabinet Worried By Unemployment Issue

Paris, Jan. 11.—The French Cabinet is seriously considering what may be done to supply work for more than 500,000 of the nation's mechanics and laborers who are out of employment and thus to remedy a situation which is intensifying trade embarrassments and threatening further large additions to the list of the unemployed.

The number of persons out of work in France is believed to have been at the end of the year from 300,000 to 500,000, and the number has since increased until it now is variously estimated from 500,000 to 1,000,000.

The working up of left-over army material into civilian clothing is one of the solutions proposed. It has also been suggested that a great many of the idle may be utilized in completing the demolition of the old wall of Paris and in building some 2,000 homes for large families on the space made available where the demolition process has already been effected, while intensified reconstruction in northern France might keep a great many more persons occupied.

The Cabinet also is considering the feasibility of opening up public works of considerable importance and of putting the waterways and railroads in perfect condition.

BEGINS COAL SALES PROBE

Palmer Takes Up Alleged Profiteering on War Department

Initial steps in the investigation of charges of profiteering in the sale of coal to the War Department last summer as contained in a report of the Senate committee on reconstruction were taken yesterday by the Department of Justice.

Investigators of the department were assembled, officials said, and the preliminary work begun. It was expected the Senate committee's report gave only the names of the companies whose various prices charged [illegible] and the cost [illegible] necessary to study the transactions of each [illegible] with the War Department before there could be a decision as to starting prosecution under the Lever act would be justified.

ROBBED MAN AIDS THIEF

Meets Burglar With Loot on Street Directs Him to Next Station

Mount Airy, Md., Jan. 11.—To have his house robbed during the absence of his family and then to meet the robber, traveling on a bicycle, with a huge bundle of loot on his back, and giving information to the fleeing thief as to the distance to the next station, was the experience of Clayton D. Dick, whose residence at Liberal Springs, was looted of several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry and clothing yesterday.

Mr. Dick met the bicyclist, who, he has since become convinced, was the burglar, while he was returning home. The stranger asked the way to the next station, and on receiving the directions, pedaled rapidly away.

GIRL SHIELDS LOVER: WOUNDED THREE TIMES

New York, Jan. 11.—"I saw a lot of pluck when I was over with the boys in France, but for pure unadulterated courage you've got to give it to Mary Martin."

This was the tribute paid yesterday by John J. Burns, a "fighting Sixty-ninth Regiment" hero to his sweetheart who shortly after midnight yesterday morning insisted on shielding the former soldier from shots fired at him from an automatic and who fell with three bullets in her body. The girl is in the Metropolitan Hospital and although her condition is serious, the latest reports state that she has a fighting chance for recovery.

"I thought the world and all of Mary, but now I worship her," said Burns "and when she gets out of the hospital I am going to ask her to marry me at once."

Burns, Miss Martin, 26 years old, and Burns' sister, Mrs. Peter Gerlett, were returning from the theatre when Peter Gerlett stepped from a doorway and pointing an automatic at Burns remarked:

"I'll give it to you this time, Jack Burns."

Mrs. Gerlett ran. Burns pushed Miss Martin behind him as a shot whistled past. The girl however, rushed in front of her stalwart lover and received the bullets intended for him.

BASES CUT IN WAGES ON ATTITUDE OF PUBLIC

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 11.—The public attitude is against maintaining the wages of textile workers at the high war time rates, William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, said last night in addressing the reduction of 22 1-2 per cent in the wages of the operatives in the 30 mills of that company, which was announced yesterday. This cut brought into the lower wage levels of the textile trade in New England the last important manufacturing interest involved.

Addressing the overseers of the American Woolen Company's four mills in this city at a dinner which he gave them at his home in Andover, President Wood said that the decision to readjust wages was reached with a full regard for what is "just" to the company's workers.

"If the prevailing rate of wages could have been maintained I would have been only too glad," he said, "but the attitude of the public is against it. They will not pay the prices which the present wages involve and we must all of us bow to the public will."

Epidemic of Hiccoughs Alarms London Doctors

London, Jan. 11.—The epidemic of hiccoughs is spreading through London, and the medical profession is taking a serious view of its progress. There are twelve cases in one hospital. Some of the victims are on the verge of collapse after constant hiccoughing for days.

Several weeks ago a similar epidemic swept through a part of Switzerland. No medical explanation of its cause has been given.

DETROIT FACTORIES OPEN UP AND EMPLOY HUNDREDS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 11.—Some further slight improvement in the unemployment situation here was looked for this week, with the reopening of several more small plants and resumption of operations in additional departments of plants that have been working with curtailed forces.

The Continental Motors Corporation expected to reopen with a small force tomorrow. It has been closed since December 22. Normally, the plant employs 3,000 men.

The Studebaker Corporation reopened its local plant yesterday morning, as did several other smaller factories.

Announcement that the Ford Motor Company will reopen February 1 is expected to be made shortly.

TWO HOURS IS WILSON'S DAY

President Now Works That Period Without Fatigue

Washington, Jan. 11. [illegible] Wilson is now able to work [illegible] daily without fatigue, Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson, his physician, said yesterday in discussing the President's health. He added, however, that the President was not yet ready for a full day's work.

Commenting further on the visit to the White House yesterday of Dr. Francis X. Dercum, of Philadelphia, Dr. Grayson said he had called in the specialist because he feared that he himself might have gone "stale" in his assessment of the Executive's condition. It so happened, he said, that on the occasion of Dr. Dercum's visit the President had one of the best days since his illness.

In the first place CORBY BREAD is absolutely PURE 100 percent PURE! Every ingredient is selected with the utmost discrimination; and handled with the greatest care, as well.
